SURVEY TERM DEFINITIONS

Content Marketing: A strategic marketing approach focused on creating and distributing valuable, relevant, and consistent content to attract and retain a clearly defined audience—and, ultimately, to drive profitable customer action.

Success: Success is defined as achieving your organization’s desired/targeted results.

CHART TERM DEFINITIONS

All Respondents: B2B North America content marketers, all of whom indicated their organization has been using content marketing for at least one year (see p. 42 for more details).

Most and Least Successful: The “most successful” (aka “top performers”) are those who characterized their organization’s overall content marketing approach as extremely or very successful (Top 2). The “least successful” characterized their organization’s approach as minimally or not at all successful (Bottom 2).

Some charts in this report compare Most Successful vs. All Respondents vs. Least Successful. If a chart shows data for All Respondents only, there were minor differences between the three groups, or any large differences between Most and Least appear in a sidebox.

CAUTIONARY NOTE

Attempts to compare this year’s findings with past years’ findings should be undertaken cautiously. This year, qualified respondents differed from prior years in that qualification was based on whether their organization has been using content marketing for at least one year.
Welcome to our ninth annual B2B Content Marketing Benchmarks, Budgets, and Trends—North America report. We surveyed content marketers worldwide about a range of content marketing topics including strategy, audience development, technology proficiency, and content types. This report presents the data from the B2B content marketers in North America.

Although issues such as changes in SEO and social media algorithms are top-of-mind for B2B content marketers, they are accustomed to rapid changes in technology that often enable them to do their jobs faster, with better results. When the process-related components of the content marketer’s job are efficient, time is freed up to better serve the audience, discovering and developing the types of content they truly want and need.

We hope you find this research helpful as you plan for 2019!
The two biggest benefits of a documented content marketing strategy are that it aligns team around common mission/goals (81%) and makes it easier to determine which types of content to develop (81%).

96% of the most successful content marketers (aka “top performers”) agree that their organizations have built credibility and trust with their audience.

Well-researched personas can help teams create successful content; however, too few content marketers are actually talking with customers to understand their needs (42%).

B2B content marketers primarily use email (87%) and educational content (77%) to nurture their audience, and may be missing other opportunities (e.g., only 23% are using community building/audience participation to bring new voices to the table).

Nearly all of the most successful B2B content marketers (90%) prioritize the audience’s informational needs over their sales/promotional message, compared with 56% of the least successful.

Content creation is the area of content marketing where there has been the most reported increase in spending over the last 12 months (56%).

Changes to SEO/search algorithms is the top content marketing issue of importance to organizations (61%), followed by changes in social media algorithms (45%), and content marketing as a revenue center (41%).

As an organization grows in content marketing maturity, its success is likely to increase.

The majority of the most successful B2B content marketers report that their organization is in the mature/sophisticated phase of content marketing maturity. The least successful are often in the young/first steps phase.

How B2B Marketers Rate Their Organization’s Content Marketing Maturity Level

- SOPHISTICATED: Providing accurate measurement to the business, scaling across the organization.
- MATURE: Finding success, yet challenged with integration across the organization.
- ADOLESCENT: Have developed a business case, seeing early success, becoming more sophisticated with measurement and scaling.
- YOUNG: Growing pains, challenged with creating a cohesive strategy and a measurement plan.
- FIRST STEPS: Doing some aspects of content, but have not yet begun to make content marketing a process.

Note: 3% of respondents said unsure.  •  Base: B2B content marketers; aided list.

2019 B2B Content Marketing Benchmarks, North America: Content Marketing Institute/MarketingProfs
93% of the most successful B2B content marketers report their organization is extremely/very committed to content marketing.

CMI/MarketingProfs’ annual content marketing research consistently shows that a strong commitment to content marketing often yields a higher level of overall success.

This year’s findings show that even the least successful have higher commitment levels than might be expected, indicating perhaps that their organizations are willing to give content marketing the necessary time to produce the desired results.
A documented content marketing strategy is often a key indicator of content marketing success.

The most successful content marketers are far more likely than their less successful peers to have a documented content marketing strategy (65% vs. 14%).

TECHNOLOGY USE & PROFICIENCY
About one out of three (67%) of the most successful B2B marketers describe their organization’s proficiency with the use of content marketing technology as expert/advanced.

The least successful respondents report their organizations are, for the most part, just beginning to use—or are growing in their use of—content marketing technologies (beginner/novice phases).

EXPERT
Content marketing technology is integrated across the organization, experiencing the benefits.

ADVANCED
Finding success, yet challenged with integrating content marketing technology across the organization.

INTERMEDIATE
Becoming more consistent with the use of content marketing technology, seeing early success.

NOVICE
Growing in use of content marketing technology, but not using it consistently.

BEGINNER
Just started using one or more content marketing technologies.

Past CMI/MarketingProfs annual content marketing research has consistently identified LinkedIn, Twitter, and Facebook as the top three social media platforms B2B marketers use for content marketing purposes.

Instead of inquiring this year about specific platforms, we asked if issues such as changes in social media algorithms and data privacy had led content marketers to decrease their use of social media. We found no signs of slowing down, with only 5% reporting a decrease in use.
71% of the most successful B2B content marketers use paid methods to distribute content, compared with 55% of the least successful.

Last year’s CMI/MarketingProfs annual content marketing research (as reported in the 2018 version of this report) found that email, social media platforms, and blogs were the top three formats B2B marketers used to distribute content.

This year, we asked respondents if they use paid methods to distribute content. The majority said yes.

72% of the most successful B2B content marketers report their organization measures content marketing ROI.
25% of B2B content marketers say their teams are extremely/very proficient at using the metrics their team has selected.

There are many metrics and techniques available for measuring content marketing results. The key is to identify the metrics that will yield the most meaningful insights based on specific goals.

This chart shows how proficient B2B content marketers say their teams are with using the metrics they’ve selected. Those reporting low proficiency may have a need for training, or the metrics used may need to be reevaluated.

It’s worthwhile to note that those who are most proficient at using the right metrics work in organizations that are more likely to measure the ROI of their content marketing efforts.

B2B Content Marketing 2019: Benchmarks, Budgets, and Trends—North America was produced by Content Marketing Institute and MarketingProfs and sponsored by Conductor.

The 9th Annual Content Marketing Survey, from which the results of this report were generated, was mailed electronically to a sample of marketers using lists from Content Marketing Institute, MarketingProfs, The Association for Data-driven Marketing & Advertising (ADMA), and WTWH Media, and UBM Technology Group.

A total of 1,947 recipients from around the globe—representing a full range of industries, functional areas, and company sizes—replied to the survey during June and July 2018. This report presents the findings from the 771 North America respondents who indicated their organization is for-profit, primarily selling products/services to businesses (B2B), and has been using content marketing for at least one year.

B2B Industry Classification

- Technology/IT/Software/Hardware: 14%
- Agency (Content Marketing, Advertising, Digital, PR): 5%
- Manufacturing: 8%
- Consulting: 13%
- Professional Services: 21%
- Financial Services: 30%
- Healthcare/Medical/Pharmaceuticals: 32%
- Other: 15%

Size of B2B Company (by Employees)

- Micro (Fewer than 10 Employees): 22%
- Small (10-99 Employees): 31%
- Midsize (100-999 Employees): 32%
- Large (1,000+ Employees): 15%

B2B Content Marketing Job Title/Function

- Marketing/Advertising/Communications/PR Management: 42%
- Content Creation/Management (Writer/Creative Director/Editor): 16%
- Corporate Management (CEO/Owner/President/CMO/CCO): 18%
- Marketing—Staff/Support/Administration: 11%
- General Management (GM, VP): 7%
- Other: 6%

Note: This year’s methodology differs from prior years. This year, we qualified respondents based on whether their organization has been using content marketing for at least one year, and whether they are a content marketer, someone who is involved with the content marketing function, and/or someone to whom content marketing reports.
Thanks to all the survey participants and distribution partners and to everyone who helps disseminate these findings throughout the content marketing industry.
