SURVEY TERM DEFINITIONS

Content Marketing: A strategic marketing approach focused on creating and distributing valuable, relevant, and consistent content to attract and retain a clearly defined audience—and, ultimately, to drive profitable customer action.

Success: Success is defined as achieving your organization’s desired/targeted results.
Welcome to B2C Content Marketing 2019—Benchmarks, Budgets, and Trends. This report presents the results from the B2C marketers who took our ninth annual content marketing survey.

Our research has consistently shown that creating brand awareness is a top goal for B2C content marketing. However, many of this year’s survey respondents also reported strong concern for using content to solidify existing relationships (see page 13).

Content that can be effective at building loyalty takes many shapes and forms today, for example:

- Videos and social media stories that entertain
- In-person events that create a sense of community and belonging
- Podcasts that inspire
- Live or virtual experiences that evoke emotion
- Articles, guides, newsletters, etc., that provide information

Obviously, the list goes on. The point is, that while driving people to content is critical, giving them reasons to keep coming back will grow long-term success!
KEY FINDINGS

B2C content marketing budgets are on this rise

Fifty-seven percent of B2C marketers surveyed expect their content marketing budget to increase in 2019 compared with 2018. Of that group, 29% expect it to increase by more than 9%.

If last year was any indication, B2C marketers will increase spending on content creation in 2019

Among respondents who increased content marketing spending in the last 12 months, 56% did so in the area of content creation, making it the top area of increased spending.

Using content to build customer loyalty is top-of-mind

Eighty-one percent of B2C marketers surveyed agree their organizations are concerned with creating content that builds loyalty with existing clients/customers. Of that group, 52% agreed “strongly” and 29% agreed “somewhat.”

A strong commitment to content marketing shows in overall results

B2C marketers who say their organizations are extremely/very committed to content marketing report a higher level of overall content marketing success than their less committed peers; they’re also more likely to report they’ve used content marketing successfully to reach goals such as educating the audience and building customer loyalty.

Sponsored content on social media is the top method of paid content distribution

Social media tops the list of paid methods B2C marketers use to distribute content. Of the 68% of respondents who use paid methods, three out of four (77%) use sponsored content on social media.

B2C Content Marketing 2019: Benchmarks, Budgets, and Trends was produced by Content Marketing Institute and MarketingProfs.

The ninth annual CMI/MarketingProfs content marketing survey, from which the results of this report were generated, was mailed electronically to a sample of marketers using lists from Content Marketing Institute, MarketingProfs, The Association for Data-driven Marketing & Advertising (ADMA), WTWH Media, and UBM Technology Group.

A total of 1,947 recipients from around the globe—representing a full range of industries, functional areas, and company sizes—replied to the survey during June and July 2018. This report presents the findings from the 299 respondents who indicated their organization is for-profit, primarily selling products/services to consumers (B2C) or to both businesses and consumers (B2B and B2C), with the percentage of B2C business exceeding 50%.

Additional reports based on the annual survey are available at www.contentmarketinginstitute.com/research.

Note: This year’s methodology differs from prior years. This year, we qualified respondents based on whether their organization has been using content marketing for at least one year, and whether they are a content marketer, someone who is involved with the content marketing function, and/or someone to whom content marketing reports.
Thanks to all the survey participants and distribution partners and to everyone who helps disseminate these findings throughout the content marketing industry.
